

Aurora Coronell

Video Documentary Specialist

I am member of the Wooshkeetaan clan, the Tóos' Déx'i Hit – shark backbone house. I am a grandchild of the Yanyedi clan (eagle/wolf). I was born and raised in Juneau, Alaska. My English name is Aurora Coronell. I was given my grandmother's Tlingit name, Ka oo klaa.

Growing up, I always had vision to record and document events. I found passion and inspiration through the lens of a camera. At the age of 18, I attended Full Sail University in Orlando, Florida to receive my associates' degree in Show Production and Touring. Later on I received my bachelors in Music Business. With a wide range of interest in the industry, I have gained experience in film from living in Los Angeles being a freelance set/office production assistant. I also attended Native American/Diversity film workshops hosted by Fox, ABC and Disney.

When I moved back home to Alaska in 2010, I was asked if I could help document a Youth & Elder's summer program that Douglas Indian Association sponsored. I am very fortunate that I am able to use my knowledge of current technology to help preserve the culture and language. Gunalcheésh
